OnTrack is a 14-week university preparation course that assists you to gain entry into a wide range of undergraduate degrees at Murdoch University.

OnTrack will provide you with:
* A supportive, adult learning environment in which to develop effective study habits and learning strategies
* The tuition you need to develop your academic skills, knowledge and understandings to an undergraduate level
* Assistance to explore an undergraduate degree program that matches your aspirations.
* A network of peer and academic support at Murdoch University

Admission Requirements (Onshore):
OnTrack is suitable for people from the following equity groups: people who can demonstrate educational disruption due to family, financial or social issues; Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people; people with disabilities or medical conditions; people living in rural or remote regions; and women wishing to study in one of the University’s Engineering courses. The course also caters for people who have arrived in Australia under a Humanitarian or Refugee program.

In addition, the course offers an opportunity for Year 12 non-TEE students who have experienced disruption to their final year studies due to disability, medical condition or other significant family or social issues. Students in this category will require the support of their school teaching staff in order to apply.

Special Requirements:
Please note that OnTrack is a high demand course with limited places. If by the end of the first week of semester you * have not attended class, or made reasonable efforts to contact the OnTrack Office with a request to keep your enrolment open,
* and have not responded to emails and phone calls
we reserve the right to cancel your offer to enable someone else the opportunity to take up the place.
